BRAD VALLIERE WINNER.

Perfect Day at Bat Saturday. Secures Fair Tickets For Him.

The special prize offered by the management of the Keweenaw Agricultural Fair, of admission to the fair for the player with the best batting average in the baseball tournament on Saturday, was won by Brad Valliere, third baseman for Hubbard. Valliere had a perfect day at bat, securing two hits and a base on balls in the three times he faced Pitcher (Benson) of the Lakes. Valliere will be admitted to the fair free, as will also a lady friend, any day he selects to view the fair.

While a complete statement of the receipts of the baseball tournament cannot be compiled until all reports are received, it is almost certain that will exceed $500 and possibly may reach $600.

There is a possibility the White Pine Outingmen county team will appear at the Athletic park Saturday, Oct. 2, in a game with the Calumet team. Arrangements for the game are now pending. As the Calumet All-Star team, managed by Dan Cusack, defeated the White Pine team by the score of 1 to 0 in one of the closest games of the season the last day of the Outingmen Labor Day celebration, the White Pine aggression is anxious for a return match and probably will be accommodated by Calumet after the special match with the Lakes scheduled for Saturday of this week, which already has been announced.

YOUNG SON IN AUSTRIA.

Believing his fifteen-year-old son to be in danger in Vienna, Austria, Louis Wax, a naturalized American living in Calumet, will appeal to the state department for assistance in locating him and securing safe transportation to America. The boy has been in Austria for several years and a short time ago, while in Austria, the father endeavored to prevail upon him to leave, but was unsuccessful. Now he fears the boy will be enticed for military duty much against his wishes.

COLOSSEUM OPEN TONIGHT.

All arrangements have been completed for the opening of the roller skating season at the Colosseum this evening. During the entire fall season the rink will be open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings, with the C. & H. band in attendance, for roller skating and dancing. The rink has been placed in excellent condition for the season and it is expected the revival of ice skating will be popular.

CAPT. GRIBBLE ANSWERS CALL

Pioneer Mining Man Succumbs After Extended Illness

In the death of Capt. James H. Gribble of Eighth street, which occurred about noon yesterday at his home, the Lake Superior region lost another of the hardy type of miners, who by application and energy surmounted the difficulties of the pioneer days, carving the way for this district's present greatness and future development. The end came peacefully yesterday after an illness of about a year. Death was attributed to heart trouble, induced by a continued illness with asthma and bronchitis. Although in failing health for several months, Capt. Gribble was confined to his room for the last three or four months only.

Capt. Gribble was a native of Cornwall, Cornwall, England. He was born on Oct. 8, 1843 and in his early manhood, worked in the tin mines of Cornwall, the training school of so many of the world's most expert miners. From Cornwall, he went to Australia, where he worked in the gold mining region for about nineteen years. At the solicitation of a brother in the copper country, Capt. Gribble came to Calumet with his family in 1882, after a trip almost around the world, to his old home in England, then to Toronto, and later to Collingwood, Ont. He made the trip from that point to Lake Linden on the old steamer Arctic, which old settlers remember. From Lake Linden he came to Calumet over the H. & T. L. road.

Capt. Gribble assisted in opening up the first shaft of the Tamarack mine, and later he directed the sinking of shafts No. 3 and 4 of the North Tamarack branch. The sinking of the No. 3 shaft, Tamarack almost from the surface to the vein, also was under his direction, he having remained in the latter position until about nine years ago, the time of his retirement from active mining.

Capt. Gribble was a man of sterling qualities and enjoyed the warmest friendship of hundreds of the older residents as well as of the younger generation, all of whom will regret his taking away. Captain Gribble always held the interests of the community at heart.

Capt. Gribble was an active member of Court Robin Hood, Ancient Order of Foresters, Calumet Chapter, R. A. M. and of Calumet lodge, No. 271, F. & A. M. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the family residence, under Masonic auspices, with interment in Lake View cemetery.

Besides a sorrowing wife, Capt. Gribble is survived by three sons, William of Globe, Arizona, who has been in the copper country for several weeks past, Edward of Eureka, Cal., and Chris H. Gribble, teller at the State Savings bank of Laurium.

OTHER "SOONERS" FINED.

Keweenaw Warden Makes Example of Two for Early Hunting.

William Renta and John Ollila, both of Keweenaw county, hunting companions, were apprehended by Game Warden Thomas Uren Saturday, in the act of hunting partridge. The former had succeeded in killing one bird and Ollila had two birds bagged. Both men were arraigned before Justice Edwin Medvin of Ahmeek Saturday evening, both pleading guilty to the charge of violating the game laws. Renta was fined $15 and costs and Ollila was fined $25 and costs, fifteen dollars for the first bird and $10 for the second bird. Both fines were paid. Frank Francisco and Ralph Opland were given a hearing before Justice David Armit Saturday evening on the charge of killing non-game birds, namely songbirds. They pleaded guilty and each paid a fine of $10 and costs. Complaint was made in both cases by Game Warden John T. MacDonald.

BAKER GOES ASHORE AGAIN.

Ill-luck seems to hover over the steamer George S. Baker, the gigantic steel ore carrier of the steel trust fleet. On her first trip of the season, the big freighter went aground on Sawtooth reef off Eagle River, owing to a slight deviation of the compass and although it was released within a few days, was damaged to the extent of about $50,000. Now word comes that the big boat, ore laden, is again aground at Winnetaka, on the west shore line of Lake Michigan, just north of Evanston, Ill. The lighter Reliance and a tug have gone from the Soo to the relief of the boat.

MARRIAGE AT OSCEOLA.

The marriage of Miss Mame Karri, daughter of Isaac Karri of Osceola, to Henry Sakison, was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of the bride's father, by Rev. Edvean of Calumet. Both are well known in the copper country. They will make their home at Osceola.

All members of Calumet lodge, No. 271 F. & A. M. are requested to meet at 1:45 Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral of deceased Brother James H. Gribble.

DR. A. G. M'LEOD MAY GO TO WAR

Former Calumet Man Offers Services to Great Britain

Calumet residents will be interested to know that Dr. A. G. MacLeod, formerly a well known Calumet physician, who for the past few years has made his home in London, England, has volunteered his services on the field of battle in support of Great Britain's cause in the present European war. Even now Dr. MacLeod may be in uniform on the continent among the great host of warriors engaged on the battlefront field of the Aisne.

Writing to his nephew in Calumet from London, Dr. MacLeod states that he has offered his services to the government, either professional or otherwise, and has been informed that his name has been listed among those whose services will be called for. Anticipating early action, Dr. MacLeod intimates that his next letter probably will be from the continent. It is presumed that Dr. MacLeod's service to the British cause will be of great value as a physician and surgeon, and that he will be assigned to the hospital corps, to care for the wounded and assist in keeping sanitary conditions in the camp of the allied armies.

Dr. MacLeod describes interestingly the conditions the war has brought to England and to London, so many references to which have been made.

PEACE PRAYERS ON OCTOBER 4

Union Service May Be Arranged by Protestant Churches

Protestant churches of Calumet are considering the suggestion made today that a big union service of prayer be arranged for Sunday, Oct. 4, in compliance with the proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson, calling on all Christian people in the United States to set apart that day for prayer and supplication for peace in Europe. Members of different creeds in Calumet look with favor on the suggestion and it is possible a meeting of the Protestant clergy and church workers will be held shortly to perfect the arrangements.

Inasmuch as the pastors of several of the Methodist Episcopal churches of Calumet will not have returned from the Saginaw meeting of the Detroit M. E. conference by that date and the pulpits will be in charge of supply ministers, it is pointed out that the arrangements for such a union meeting could easily be made, and would conflict in no way with plans for similar prayer services in separate churches. The members of the various missionary societies might also co-operate in making the arrangements for a union prayer service.

The suggestion is made that the Calumet rink be secured for such a service, providing as it does sufficient room to seat the congregations of all denominations. If the Calumet rink is not available, the armory or one of the larger churches might be used. Representatives of all denominations would have places on the program and the singing of old familiar hymns by massed choirs or selected soloists would make the service an inspiring one.

structor and inspector for the Marconi Wireless company, is in Calumet on official business. He visited the Tamarack Junior Wireless station today.

Miss Catherine MacNaughton left yesterday for Northwestern University at Evanston.

Michael Flanders of Osceola has departed for Detroit, where he expects to locate.

THE PORT OF MISSING MEN

BY THE NOTED NOVELIST MEREDITH NICHOLSON

IN FIVE REELS OF MOVING PICTURES

Arnold Daly, one of the foremost stars of the modern stage, famed as an exponent of the "intellectual" drama, makes his first appearance in motion pictures in "The Port of Missing Men," that popular story of foreign intrigue and romantic adventure by the famous novelist, Meredith Nicholson. Mr. Daly's subtle delineation of character and his delicate artistry have earned him a host of admirers throughout the world. Those who remember his polished and precise portrayal of Napoleon in Bernard Shaw's "Man of Destiny" will quickly recognize his special fitness for the role of John Armitage, the clever and daring subject of a mythical kingdom, who comes to the United States and becomes imbued with the spirit of American democracy, and who later outwits the spies of his country's enemies, does great service for the Empire, and yet remains loyal to his adopted country, America, also showing himself no unskilled adept at the art of love-making.

At no time does this tense drama of love and conspiracy lose its firm grasp on the interest of the beholder. From the moment John Armitage, who is no other than Frederick Augustus Von Stroebel, son of the Prime Minister of his native Empire, comes to America with Frederick, the heir to the throne, he is kept busy falling in love and foiling the schemes and machinations of the spurious claimant of the crown. John Armitage diverts towards himself the murderous aims of the conspirators directed against Frederick, while meantime he secrets the rightful heir until the time when he can present his claims to the throne. During the course of the action, John Armitage risks love, fair name, liberty and life itself. But his labors are not in vain, and in the end he sets Frederick upon the throne, becoming once more an American gentleman of private life, and triumphantly claiming his American sweetheart, whom he prefers to the foreign titles which are offered him.
